MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The primary objective of the Guardian Canadian Bond Fund (the “Fund”) is the provision of a high level of current interest income while at the same time preserving capital and seeking opportunities for capital appreciation primarily through investment in Canadian bonds, debentures, notes or other evidence of indebtedness.

The Manager uses a proactive, disciplined management approach while employing various analytical tools to identify investments that offer value on a relative basis, with a view to maximizing current income while preserving the prospect for some capital growth. The Manager adheres to a risk management process that is designed to limit total exposure to individual issuers, diversify exposure to various term maturities and credit risks, and maintain portfolio liquidity. The Fund may be invested in foreign pay Canadian issues and securities of foreign issuers. A maximum of 30% of the Fund may be held in foreign-denominated securities. The Fund does not invest in securities issued by a corporation in respect of which the majority of revenue is derived from the manufacture or distribution of tobacco-related products.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. The Fund may be suitable for investors with a low tolerance for risk, particularly those who are looking for a core Canadian fixed-income fund for their portfolio.

Results of Operations

This commentary is based on the performance of Series I units of the Fund. Returns for other Series of units may vary, largely due to differences in fees and expenses. Please refer to the Past Performance section for specific Series level performance details.

The Fund’s net asset value increased by 107% to $291.2 million at December 31, 2023 from $140.8 at December 31, 2022. Of this change, an increase of $16.5 million was provided by investment performance and an increase of $133.8 million was attributable to net subscriptions.

Series I units of the Fund posted a return of 7.1% for the year. The Fund’s benchmark, FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, returned 6.7% for the same period. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the benchmark’s return.

In 2022, fixed income markets globally experienced one of the worst years in recent history, on a total return basis. 2023 looked to be headed that way, and investors had been bracing themselves for a third consecutive year of losses, until mid-way through the fourth quarter. Then, in November and December, with slowing inflation and the narrative that the federal banks were done with hiking rates, fueled a rally on the bond markets. The FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index ended the year up 6.7% while returning 8.3% in the fourth quarter.

Global bond markets underwent a substantial shift in the closing months of 2023. The concerns that dominated the summer and early fall — that persistent economic resiliency in the face of numerous headwinds posed upside risks to inflation and would lead central bank hiking cycles to higher than previously assumed terminal points that would be maintained for a long time — saw an abrupt reversal as gauges of underlying price pressures continued to moderate amid further indications of the desired rebalancing of supply and demand. The resultant moves lower from decade-plus highs in market interest rates that began early November were then accelerated by a notably softer tone from global central banks that was punctuated in December when the US Federal Reserve (Fed) indicated a lower projected path for policy rates and indicated that discussions had begun on when it would be appropriate to start cutting policy interest rates.

The ensuing plunge in yields across the yield curve drove the best two-month performance in the domestic bond benchmark, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index, since 1982, closing out the best quarter for the aggregated bond gauge since 1985. More rate sensitive longer-duration and government securities outperformed their shorter-term and corporate counterparts in this fourth quarter, ensuring that 2023 did not see a record-setting third consecutive annual loss for fixed income investors and instead ended positive for the calendar year as a whole.

Credit spreads tightened from the October highs, driven by optimism for a soft landing and a lack of corporate bond issuances, then circled back to the levels seen at the beginning of 2022. Credit spreads for investment grade tightened by approximately 20 basis points in 2023, as the yield remains attractive. However, there is a striking disparity in the narrative of forward-looking market expectations.

The Fund has a long duration relative to its benchmark, with overweight exposure to the middle of the yield curve and an underweight exposure to the short and long end of the curve. This contributed to relative performance during the year, as the middle of the curve provided the best value. An overweight allocation to bonds in the Financials sector added value, while being underweight in the strong performing Energy and Infrastructure sectors detracted from performance. Credit selection within the Financials sector was also a contributor, particularly mid-term bank bonds.

The Fund is higher-quality, liquid, and provides a higher yield carry relative to its benchmark. The Manager continues to actively seek attractive opportunities to enhance Fund structure and relative total returns.

On a market value basis, the Fund is underweight federal bonds and significantly overweight bonds in the Financials sector. From a duration-adjusted basis, the Fund is still overweight in provincial bonds. During the year the Manager progressively increased the exposure to bonds in the 7- year node.

The Manager integrates ESG considerations into its investment analysis and stewardship activities with the objective of enhancing long-term investment performance. Active engagement and proxy voting are a core part of the Manager's stewardship approach, and the Fund's investment team participates in these activities in a manner suitable to the asset class and Fund. Our investment teams focus on ESG and other factors which they believe could be financially material and/or impact the long-term sustainability of the company. The consideration of ESG issues is one of a number of elements in the portfolio construction process and, may or may not have a material influence on portfolio composition at any given time. For more information, the Manager posts its annual proxy voting reports, along with an annual Responsible Investing Report and its Responsible Investing Policies on its website:

Recent Developments

On November 3, 2023, the ETF Units of the Guardian Canadian Bond ETF merged, on a 1:1 basis, into the ETF Units of the Fund. The Manager of the Fund filed for and obtained exemptive relief to permit the continued disclosure of the ETF Unit's historical data, including financial data and performance, as may be applicable.

Looking forward, the prospects for bond markets appear positive. While it seems that the peak in interest rates for this cycle has likely passed, yields remain at levels that provide among the best risk/reward trade-offs for bonds in more than a decade. Further, the expectations of a continued moderation of inflation would appear to suggest that lower will be the ultimate path of least resistance for interest rates, which, combined with modest but still positive economic growth, would support earnings and credit quality. All speak in favour of a potentially good year ahead for bondholders.

That said, the magnitude of the moves at the end of 2023, as markets aggressively repriced both the timing and magnitude of rate cuts (Fed funds futures, for example, have brought forward the expected first rate cut to March 2024 and are now pricing twice as many rate cuts by 2024's year-end than the Fed's December "dot plot" indicated) suggests that there may be some near-term vulnerability to a reversal of the fourth quarter's outsized gains, particularly if there are signs that central banks may not prove as proactive in moving policy back toward "neutral" settings.

If this were to occur, credit spreads could retrace part of the tightening that they experienced in the fourth quarter and would present an opportunity to selectively add to the Fund's corporate positioning. The Manager believes that higher-quality financial credit is more attractive as it offers, in many cases, more credit spread premium for the same credit rating compared to non-financial bonds. As a result, the Fund remains overweight in shorter-term corporate bonds with a concentration in Financials, and underweight in provincial bonds. Spreads may remain volatile in the near term, but the Manager believes the Fund will be compensated with the additional spread carry, in addition to contributions from spread compression and relative capital gains over time.

Related Party Transactions

Guardian Capital LP, the Manager of the Fund, is considered to be a "related party" of the Fund. The Manager is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Fund and also acts as the portfolio manager, managing the investment portfolio of the Fund. These services are in the normal course of operations and the Fund pays a management fee to the Manager for these services, based on the average Net Asset Value of the Fund, as detailed in the Management Fees section below. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guardian Capital Group Limited, a publicly traded firm listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The Manager also receives an Administration Fee from the Fund, amounting to 0.04% of the average daily net asset value of the mutual fund Units of the Fund, in return for the payment by the Manager of all the variable operating expenses of the Fund. The Administration Fee is not paid in respect of the ETF Units. Each series of ETF Units pays for its portion of the Variable Operating Expenses of the Fund. The Independent Review Committee ("IRC") has approved the Manager's Policy for this item and the Manager relies on this approval as a standing instruction from the IRC. The Manager received the Administration Fee and paid Fund expenses in accordance with this Policy during the period.

The Fund may invest some of its available short term cash in money market funds managed by Guardian Capital LP, deemed a related issuer. With respect to investments in related issuers, the Manager has relied on the approval that it has received from the IRC. The approval requires the Manager to comply with its current policy and procedures regarding investments in related issuers and to report periodically to the IRC. The Manager will not duplicate management fees paid to an underlying fund that is a related issuer.

Management Fees

No management fees are payable or collected for Series I units of the Fund. The Series A, Series F and ETF units are subject to management fees which are based on a percentage of the average Series NAV during each month, calculated and accrued daily, and payable monthly. The Series A management fee is 0.80% per annum. The Series F and ETF units management fee is 0.30% per annum. The table below provides a breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fees, as a percentage of the management fees, for the period.

	Series A	Series F	Series I	ETF Units
Investment management and other general administration	37.5%	100.0%	n/a	100.0%

[4] The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively its portfolio advisor trades portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in the portfolio once in the course of a year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

* The historical Financial Highlights data presented prior to November 3, 2023, for the ETF Units of the Fund is that of the ETF Units of the Guardian Canadian Bond Fund ETF, which merged into the Fund on that date and the historical data is being provided pursuant to exemptive relief obtained by the Manager.

[1] This information is provided as at the end of each period indicated.

[2] The management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) of the ETF and its proportionate share of the total expenses of the Underlying Funds, where applicable, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The Manager absorbed some of the Fund's expenses, if it had not done so the MER would have been higher.

[3] The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs of the ETF and its proportionate share of the Underlying Funds' portfolio transaction costs, where applicable, expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value for the period.

[4] The ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively its portfolio advisor trades portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in the portfolio once in the course of a year. The higher a ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of an ETF.
