MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

Guardian Canadian Sector Controlled Equity Fund (the "Fund") seeks to achieve long-term growth of capital while maintaining steady current dividend income by investing, directly or indirectly, primarily in common shares or other equity-related securities issued by Canadian companies with a focus on reducing exposure to resources. The Manager seeks to identify companies that it believes have the potential to provide above-market returns with below market risk using a rigorous fundamental approach to security selection. The Manager generally aims to have reduced exposure to volatile resource dependent sectors of the Canadian market. In conducting its analysis, the Manager evaluates the financial condition and management of a company, its industry and relevant economic factors. As part of this evaluation, the Manager (i) analyzes financial data and other information services relevant to the issuer; (ii) assesses the quality of company management; and (iii) conducts company interviews, as deemed necessary. viii The Fund maintains a Canadian equity focus. However, due to increased global integration and cross-border corporate transactions, the Fund may generally invest up to 10% of its market value in individual foreign equities that have either significant business operations in Canada or are listed on the Exchange.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. The Fund may be suitable for investors with a medium tolerance for risk, particularly those who seek exposure to equity securities of issuers with business operations around the world.

Results of Operations

(This commentary is based on the performance of The ETF Units of the Fund. Returns for other Series of units may vary, largely due to differences in fees and expenses. Please refer to the Past Performance section for specific Series level performance details.)

The Fund's net asset value increased by 37% to $5.9 million at December 31, 2022 from $4.3 million at December 31, 2021. Of this change, a decrease of $0.5 million was due to investment performance and an increase of $2.1 million was attributable to net subscriptions.

The unhedged ETF Units of the Fund posted a return of -8.4% for the year. The Fund's benchmark, the S&P/TSX Capped Composite Index, returned -5.8% for the same period. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the benchmark's return.

A strong start and end to the year in the Canadian equity markets salvaged the year's negative performance overall, as investors became increasingly concerned about a possible economic recession driven by central banks aggressively hiking interest rates throughout the year to combat high inflation. Previous monetary and fiscal policies during the pandemic, high energy prices and supply chain problems have been the key drivers of rising inflation. The ongoing war in Ukraine has also weighed on investor sentiment and contributed to higher inflation by adding to the already substantial supply chain problems. The S&P/TSX Composite Index delivered a total return of -5.8%; however, Canada handily outperformed US and global markets. Energy stocks were the best performing sector by far, while Consumer Staples also managed to deliver positive returns during the year. Health Care and Information Technology were the worst performing sectors during 2022.

Central banks in Canada and the US became more aggressive in their fight against inflation by raising interest rates seven times (400 bps and 425 bps respectively) during 2022. Bond yields also increased materially, with the 10-year Canada bond yield rising 187 bps to finish at 3.298%. Within Energy, oil prices ended the year at US$80 per barrel, after breaching US$120 per barrel a few times during the year.

The Fund performed in line with its benchmark, due to sector allocation, partially offset by stock selection during the period.

An overweight allocation to Information Technology, due to positive stock selection, was a contributing factor to performance, which was partially offset by negative sector allocation. Overweight allocations to the Industrials sector also contributed to performance, due to both positive sector allocation and stock selection. An underweight allocation to Energy and to Materials had a negative impact on performance, due to negative sector allocation. An overweight to Consumer Discretionary, due to both negative sector allocation and stock selection, also had a negative impact.

The Fund's position in Canadian Natural Resources was able to deliver strong shareholder returns due to record production and strong oil prices. The company's diverse business and strong execution was highlighted at the recent investor day. Meanwhile the Fund's position in Shopify Inc. was sold in Q2, as higher global yields led to further valuation compression in the higher-valued, high-growth areas of the market. Shopify's pivot to deploy capital to develop its own fulfillment network earlier this year has weighed on near-term profitability and competition has increased with Amazon launching new products that could erode Shopify's competitive advantage. The capital was recycled into higher conviction positions.

The Fund added SNC-Lavalin to its portfolio, as SNC is undergoing a transformation toward a pure-play engineering and design consulting business (higher margin, capital-light, less lumpy), whereas, historically, it has faced issues with what are called Lump-Sum-Turn-Key (LSTK) projects that are bid at a specific cost, with any overruns being the responsibility of SNC. (An example of this is the Toronto-based Eglinton Crosstown LRT.)

Also added was Teck Resources, one of the world's lowest carbon-intensity producers of copper, zinc, and coal. They have been taking significant action to support a cleaner future and reduce the carbon intensity of its operations (reducing it by 5% this far, in line with their goal of a 33% reduction overall by 2030). The Fund added TMX Group, a position owned in the past and which is a high-quality defensive growth business with high margins and barriers to entry. The company continues to transition its business toward high-recurring revenue information services and analytics, which earn margins above the company average. TMX's quasi-monopolistic advantages in key trading markets and products as the dominant incumbent where liquidity is of paramount importance. TMX's business has shown resilience in up and down markets, making it an attractive and diversifying defensive growth exposure for the portfolio. The Fund also added National Bank of Canada. While the company is the smallest of the big six Canadian banks, National is a leader in Quebec, where the company is gaining market share from Desjardins, while Quebec's economy is outperforming the Canadian average. The bank also has a strong capital markets division and is growing profitably in select international markets.

The Fund sold its position in Bausch Health. The patent challenge against the company's largest drug introduced new risks that led us to sell the stock. While it is likely that Bausch will win the case, the binary risk associated with the patent challenge led us to exit the position. IT also sold CIBC, due to concerns about medium-term profitability as rising deposit rates squeeze net interest margins. Also, rising capital requirements may pressure banks, including CIBC, to raise additional equity at dilutive valuation levels. CIBC's margin and capital profiles are less robust vs. its peers. The Fund also sold its position in Brookfield Asset Management (BAM), post the spin-out of from Brookfield Corporation (BN), but maintained the position in BN. While BAM is a high-quality growth business, the steeply discounted valuation of BN implies higher future returns.

As part of the investment mandate to diversify away from concentrated sectors in the S&P/TSX Composite Index, the Fund has maintained its underweight in commodity driven sectors (Energy and Materials), as well as Financials, which is the largest GICS sector on the Index.

The Manager integrates ESG considerations into its investment analysis and stewardship activities with the objective of enhancing long-term investment performance. Active engagement and proxy voting are a core part of the Manager's stewardship approach, and the Fund's investment team participates in these activities in a manner suitable to the asset class and Fund. Our investment teams focus on ESG and other issues which they believe could be financially material and/or impact the long-term sustainability of the company. The consideration of ESG issues is one of a number of elements in the portfolio construction process and, may or may not have a material influence on portfolio composition at any given time. For more information, the Manager posts its annual proxy voting activities and an annual Responsible Investing report on its website: <https://www.guardiancapital.com/investmentsolutions/>

Recent Developments

As has been the case for some time, global policymakers continue to “talk tough” even as the impacts of their aggressive tightening moves are felt with a lag. While near-term inflation has clearly peaked, it is still unclear how far inflation will fall and how fast. As the US dollar and bond yields decline alongside inflation, financial conditions should ease at the margin, but earnings are expected to face headwinds as nominal growth slows. Whether or not the US and Canadian economies fall into recession has yet to unfold, but caution is warranted as policymakers seem determined to bring down inflation, even if it means intentionally leading the economy into recession.

At the company level, falling inflation and slowing growth are introducing crosscurrents. Falling inflation is simultaneously a headwind for revenue growth and a welcome relief from escalating input costs. Meanwhile, slowing growth and easing supply chain pressure are leading to higher inventories, which may lead to further price declines. While companies held in the Fund’s portfolio exhibit strong market positions and pricing power, the short-term impacts from the crosscurrents mentioned above are uncertain, which has led to valuation compression in many areas of the market. Over time, the Manager expects higher-quality companies to overcome these headwinds, making current valuations particularly attractive for long-term investors.

Economic headwinds are expected to affect all holdings to various degrees, however, we believe that as labour markets and supply chains continue to normalize, multiple companies in the portfolio will benefit, irrespective of the economic outlook.

Related Party Transactions

Guardian Capital LP, the Manager of the Fund, is considered to be a “related party” of the Fund. The Manager is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Fund and also acts as the portfolio manager, managing the investment portfolio of the Fund. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guardian Capital Group Limited, a publicly traded firm listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

<sup>[2]</sup> Distributions were paid in cash or certain distributions were reinvested in additional units of the Fund. Immediately following such reinvestment, the number of units outstanding was consolidated so that the net assets per unit following the distribution and reinvestment is the same as it would have been if the distribution had not been paid.

<sup>[3]</sup> The tax characteristics of distributions are reported annually by the Fund to CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. ("CDS"). CDS makes this information available to brokers who provide it to unitholders through standard tax reporting.

<sup>[4]</sup> The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively its portfolio advisor trades portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in the portfolio once in the course of a year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of an Fund.

<sup>[2]</sup> The management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes) of the Fund and its proportionate share of the total expenses of the Underlying Funds, where applicable, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. The Manager absorbed some of the Fund's expenses, if it had not done so the MER would have been higher.
