MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

Guardian i³ Global Quality Growth ETF (the “Fund”) seeks to achieve long-term capital appreciation by primarily investing in a portfolio of equity or equity-related securities of issuers with business operations located throughout the world. The Manager employs a system-driven bottom-up research approach to assess relative value and capital growth potential within a broad stock-selection universe. The Manager uses a quantitative approach, including in particular machine learning techniques, to analyze multiple fundamental factors and incorporate financial and alternative data. The Fund maintains a mid-large capitalization bias and is broadly diversified by issuer, sector and geographic region, normally holding securities of 30 to 70 issuers. The Fund will generally limit investments in emerging market securities to 15% of the Fund’s net asset value at the time of investment. The Fund may use derivatives to hedge against potential loss and to reduce the impact of currency fluctuations on the Fund.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. The Fund may be suitable for investors with a medium tolerance for risk, particularly those who seek exposure to equity securities of issuers with business operations around the world.

Results of Operations

(Please refer to the Past Performance section for specific Series level performance details.)

The Fund’s net asset value decreased by 26% to $9.8 million at December 31, 2022 from $13.3 million at December 31, 2021. Of this change, a decrease of $4.0 million was due to investment performance and an increase of $0.5 million was attributable to net subscriptions.

The Hedged and Unhedged units of the Fund posted returns of -32.4% and -25.0%, respectively, for the year. The Fund’s benchmark, the MSCI World Index (Net C$), returned -12.2% for the same period. The difference in performance between the Hedged and Unhedged Units of the Fund is attributable to foreign currency exposure and the exchange rate. The Fund’s return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, unlike the benchmark’s return.

Rising interest rates, inflation, geopolitics, supply chain issues dominated equity markets throughout the year. At the beginning of the year, equity markets came under pressure, as rising interest rates and inflation were the two main concerns when, globally, central banks began a tightening cycle and inflationary pressures continued higher. Russia’s invasion of Ukraine and its potential knock-on effects further exacerbated negative sentiment and risk aversion in the market. Concerns surrounding growth and the possibility of recession amid tightening monetary conditions led to a further pullback in equities globally.

The year 2022 was very challenging for global equities. Given the higher sensitivity to interest rates for growth stocks, their earnings multiple compression has contributed to some of the most significant declines for growth stocks seen in recent history. We saw widespread multiple compression for growth stocks regardless of quality.

In 2022, the Fund underperformed its benchmark, the MSCI World Index, which was mainly driven by stock selection, as growth stocks have underperformed during the year.

The Fund’s overweight position in the Energy sector was the largest contributor to relative performance, as the sector outperformed due to rising commodity prices and supply and demand disruption during the year. The Fund’s underweight position in the Communication Services and Consumer Discretionary sectors contributed positively, as these were the worst performing sectors during the year.

The Fund’s overweight position and stock selection in the Information Technology sector detracted the most from relative performance due to multiple compression of stocks within the sector. Stock selection within the Health Care sector also detracted from performance due to multiple compression, especially amongst biotech and equipment stocks. Positions in the Industrials sector lagged the benchmark, contributing to a negative stock selection impact from the sector.

The Fund's positions in Equinor, APA and Woodside Energy in the Energy sector had the largest contributions to performance, as the Energy sector outperformed during the year due to rising energy prices. AstraZeneca in the Health Care sector and Broadcom in the Information Technology sector also contributed positively.

The Fund's positions in Alphabet, Zebra Technologies, and NVIDIA detracted the most from relative performance due to market worries about rising interest rates, as well as compressing margins in the Communication Services and Information Technology sectors in the short term.

The Fund's weighting in Energy was added to, with the purchase of Woodside Energy, Steris, APA Corp, ENI, and Range Resources as the sector offered the most attractive risk/reward opportunity and deep value with improving quality and growth at the beginning of the year. However, the weight in these positions was reduced during the second half of the year due to earnings growth projections trending down throughout the year. In the Health Care sector, positions in Life Science tools and pharmaceuticals were bought. The Fund took positions in Thermo Fisher, AstraZeneca, and Centene, as the Manager saw a stable growth outlook for managed care. Costco was added to the Fund's portfolio to increase exposure to US-centric consumer staples, which the Manager expects to do well in any inflation-dominated market corrections.

In the second half of the year, some weight was added back to the Information Technology sector in both Semiconductors and Software Services. The Manager looked for quality growth companies with still reasonable valuations, hence buying Microchip Technology and Broadcom for semiconductors, and also Visa and Accenture for Software Services. The Consumer Staples weight was increased as a hedge to inflation, taking positions in Coca Cola and Sysco. In Financials, Prudential (as defensive insurance) was sold in favour of Factset, to gear the Fund's portfolio more towards quality growth in Fintech.

In the Manager's opinion, inflation and recession fears overwhelmed any upside from continued re-opening post-COVID-19 through increased travel and consumer spending. Thus, Airbnb and Booking were sold. The Fund's overweight to Information Technology was reduced as rates continued to rise, and Tokyo Electron, Taiwan Semiconductor and Paypal were sold. Also in Information Technology, Digital Ocean was sold as the macroeconomic effects of inflation and rates on small and medium businesses pared back expectations on cloud spending. ASML was also sold, as performance was correlated with decreased earnings projections.

Overall, the Fund was overweight the Energy, Information Technology and Consumer Staples sectors and underweight Consumer Discretionary, Financials and Communication Services sectors. Overall, geographically, the Fund was underweight Europe and overweight North America.

The Manager integrates ESG considerations into its investment analysis and stewardship activities with the objective of enhancing long-term investment performance. Active engagement and proxy voting are a core part of the Manager's stewardship approach, and the Fund's investment team participates in these activities in a manner suitable to the asset class and Fund. Our investment teams focus on ESG and other issues which they believe could be financially material and/or impact the long-term sustainability of the company. The consideration of ESG issues is one of a number of elements in the portfolio construction process and, may or may not have a material influence on portfolio composition at any given time. For more information, the Manager posts its annual proxy voting activities and an annual Responsible Investing report on its website: <https://www.guardiancapital.com/investmentsolutions/>

Recent Developments

Beginning 2023, markets are facing headwinds due to the impact of capital allocation and overpriced securities over the last several years; high inflation and rising interest rates have highlighted this. At the same time, global growth momentum is slowing and there remain headwinds, with the raised risk of an economic downturn materializing sooner rather than later. Factoring in the impact of central banks' interest rate hikes and the risk of recession when evaluating stocks will be critical going forward.

In this environment, the Manager believes that using unbiased predictors becomes all the more critical going forward. The Manager's proprietary AI model predictions* for 1-year EPS growth rates have fallen and continue to show a negative slope, with Europe in the negative territory across most sectors, while the US seems to be stabilizing near zero.

Growth companies' valuations tend to feel particular heat from higher interest rates and although we may see some relief from a pause in Fed hikes, this may be limited or short-lived as the Fed keeps interest rates in restrictive territory. Accordingly, the Manager looks for higher quality companies in this space while staying true to the style and maintaining exposure to what we believe are the best growth themes in the long term. Although earnings trends have fallen, companies that can innovate, launch new products, or benefit from new trends may be able to compensate for this and are likely to outperform. The Manager also believes that careful selection of companies that can sustain their cash flows and grow earnings is paramount, and the Manager is consistently monitoring the Fund's exposures with respect to expected earnings growth and probability of earnings disappointments.

The Manager integrates ESG considerations into its investment analysis and stewardship activities with the objective of enhancing long-term investment performance. *The Fund's Manager combines artificial intelligence and human intelligence to provide a modern approach to portfolio construction, incorporating the advantages of big data with the experience and perspective of the investment team. The application of artificial intelligence in a model is hypothetical and the simulated results are subject to inherent limitations. Investment strategies using such quantitative models may perform differently than expected, as a result of, among other things, the factors used in the models, the weight placed on each factor, changes from the factors' historical trends and technical issues in the construction and implementation of the models. There is no guarantee that the use of the quantitative model will result in effective investment decisions.

A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in the portfolio once in the course of a year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of an Fund.
