MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The primary objective of Guardian Directed Premium Yield Portfolio (the "Fund") is to provide long term capital appreciation and to reduce portfolio volatility, by investing directly and indirectly primarily in global equity securities of high-quality companies.

The Manager primarily uses a fundamental bottom-up approach to security analysis. The Fund maintains a global equity focus and invests primarily in securities of mid to large-size companies that have a track record of sustained earnings growth. The Fund also invests in sector and market exchange-traded funds. The Fund seeks to manage the downside risks of the equity securities in which the Fund invests through the use of derivatives including, without limitation, buying or selling a combination of put and/or call options. The Fund employs this strategy to reduce exposure to market declines, while recognizing that the Fund may not fully benefit from strong equity market growth. The Fund is diversified by sector, normally holding between 20 and 40 issuers. The Fund is diversified globally but maintains a U.S. equity bias, targeting a minimum 50% allocation to U.S. equities. The Fund will use derivatives to hedge against potential loss. The Fund will also use derivatives for non-hedging purposes, including put and/or call options, futures, forward contracts and swaps, in order to gain exposure to certain securities without investing directly in such securities, to reduce the impact of currency fluctuations on the Fund or to provide protection for the Fund's portfolio.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain as discussed in the prospectus. The Fund may be suitable for investors with a medium tolerance for risk, particularly those who seek a globally diversified portfolio that produces long term capital growth while reducing portfolio volatility and who plan to hold their investment for the medium to long term.

Results of Operations

(This commentary is based on the performance of Series I units of the Fund. Returns for other Series of units may vary, largely due to differences in fees and expenses. Please refer to the Past Performance section for specific Series level performance details.)

The Fund's net asset value decreased by 8% to $26.3 million at June 30, 2022 from $28.6 million at December 31, 2021. Of this change, a decrease of $5.5 million was due to investment performance and an increase of $3.2 million was attributable to net subscriptions.

Series I units of the Fund posted a return of -17.6% for the period. The Fund's blended benchmark, 10% FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index and 90% MSCI World Index (Net, C$), returned -18.2% for the same period. The Fund's return is after the deduction of fees and expenses, where applicable for the Series, unlike the benchmark's return.

Stocks and bonds both posted negative returns in the first half of 2022. Inflation moved to the forefront of investors' minds, and Central Bankers moved to tame high inflation by raising interest rates. Investor concerns that inflation is already out of control or that the Fed will overshoot and tip the US economy into a recession grew. Concerns of prior quarters (COVID and geopolitics) remain risks and are still worth watching.

Underperformance resulting from overweighting allocations to the Consumer Discretionary and Communication Services sectors was offset by outperformance from an underweighting allocation to the Financials sector. Stock selection in the Information Technology sector netted in relative underperformance relative to the MSCI World Index. Elevated volatility during the first half of the year resulted in a positive contribution from the covered call writing program in the Fund's portfolio.

The Fund's positions in Suncor Energy, UnitedHealth, Novo Nordisk and Duke Energy contributed to positive performance during the period. A combination of rising oil prices and activist involvement drove Suncor's outperformance. The activist is seeking to close Suncor's performance and safety gap vs. peers by driving operational improvements and corporate restructuring under new management. We believe that heightened global energy security concerns have improved the positioning of Canada's oil producers given Canada's progressive regulatory environment and strong ESG disclosure requirements. UnitedHealth has benefitted from its US domestic focus and operating in an industry where inflation is not unusual. Novo Nordisk produced its strongest quarterly growth in more than two decades driven by accelerated demand for GLP-1 treatments and obesity. The company also raised its 2022 forecast for sales growth. With 95% of earnings coming from regulated assets, Duke Energy generates very consistent but modest returns on capital. The regulated return on equity for most of Duke's assets is 10.0%.

The Fund's positions in Meta Platforms, Alphabet, Nike and Illumina each detracted from performance. Meta Platform (formerly Facebook) shares fell as privacy and data concerns, increased competition, and continued large investments into the Metaverse all weighed on the share price. Shares of Alphabet, the parent company of Google, fell alongside other technology companies as the sector fell out of favor. The market expects Google's core online advertising business will come under pressure if economic growth slows, however we believe this scenario has been priced in and investments in its cloud computing and AI technology will continue to help drive earnings growth. Nike's sales growth has been held back by supply chain issues and the impact of lockdowns in China. Quarterly and full year sales grew less than expected, with China sales down 20%. As supply issues are largely rectified and China is beginning to open up again, Nike expects to deliver low double-digit revenue growth for the next fiscal year. Illumina's quarterly results came in ahead of market expectations and the company reaffirmed core full year revenue growth. The stock is under pressure due to uncertainty around antitrust investigations in Europe and the US related to the Grail acquisition, the loss of a patent case, a competitor coming out of "stealth mode" claiming it can sequence at $100 per human genome and the departure of its CFO.

During the first quarter, MarketAxess Holdings Inc.

(MKTX) and Verisk Analytics Inc. (VRSK) were added to the Fund, increasing the Financials and Industrials weight within the portfolio. MarketAxess is a leading electronic bond trading platform. Very high quality business with expanding ROIC, strong balance sheet and capital light. Verisk, a leading data analytics provider with a disproportionate amount of the revenue coming from subscriptions, has a scalable business with low Capex requirements, high margins and high customer retention.

Ulta Beauty Inc. (ULTA) and Walt Disney Co. (DIS) were sold in the 1st quarter reducing the Communication Services and Consumer Discretionary sector exposures. Ulta Beauty's valuations recovered nicely on the back of the US economy reopening, but material risks no longer supported Ulta's valuation. Albeit the reopening traffic to theme parks, cruise lines and hotels should bode well for future earnings, Disney+ and the issues related to pushing content to the ESPN app will present headwinds given the spending required to amp up their content on Disney+ and the potential loss of advertising revenue from their traditional cable distribution.

The Fund is structurally overweight Information Technology, Health Care and Communication Services sectors, and is underweight Energy, Industrials, Materials and Financials sectors. No Banks or REITs are held in the Fund's portfolio.

The Fund's aggregate exposure to specified derivatives is typically 100% at all times, as was the case throughout 2021. Covered call options were written and sold against long equity positions to enhance income during the year. In addition, the Fund utilized currency forwards to hedge the foreign currency exposure in the Hedged series.

Recent Developments

Weakness in the first half of the year primarily driven by lower valuations as a result of rising inflation, rates, monetary policy, lower P/E ratios, has financial conditions contracting. Commodity prices have begun rolling over and inflation expectations are moderating and are signaling a peak in interest rates and overnight interest rates expected in early 2023.

The housing market appears to be cooling down given the higher mortgage costs. Inventories are building as supply chains begin to open up and demand slows. Profit margins are compressing, the economy is slowing and earnings revisions will likely begin to be revised lower. Quality growth companies should re-assert their leadership given their ability to grow earnings, their strong balance sheets and moderating interest rates. Volatility is likely to remain high and this will continue to be accretive via the covered call overwriting.

Related Party Transactions

Guardian Capital LP, the Manager of the Fund, is considered to be a “related party” of the Fund. The Manager is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Fund and also acts as the portfolio manager, managing the investment portfolio of the Fund. These services are in the normal course of operations and the Fund pays a management fee to the Manager for these services, as detailed in the Management Fees section below. The Manager also receives an Administration Fee from the Fund, amounting to 0.18% of the average daily net asset value of the Fund, in return for the payment by the Manager of all the variable operating expenses of the Fund. The Independent Review Committee (“IRC”) has approved the Manager’s Policy for this item, and the Manager relies on this approval as a standing instruction from the IRC. The Manager received the Administration Fee and paid Fund expenses in accordance with this Policy during the period. The Manager is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Guardian Capital Group Limited, a publicly traded firm listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The Fund may invest some of its available short-term cash in units of Guardian Canadian Short-Term Investment Fund, another investment fund managed by Guardian Capital LP and a related issuer, which invests its assets in high-quality short-term fixed-income securities. As at June 30, 2022 the Fund had invested $7 or 0.0% of its net assets in units of the Guardian Canadian Short-Term Investment Fund. With respect to investments in related issuers, the Manager has relied on the approval that it has received from the IRC. The approval requires the Manager to comply with its current policy and procedures regarding investments in related issuers and to report periodically to the IRC. The Manager will not duplicate management fees paid to an underlying fund that is a related issuer.

Management Fees

No management fees are payable or collected for Series I units of the Fund. Series A and Series F units are subject to management fees which are based on a percentage of the average Series NAV during each month, calculated and accrued daily, and payable monthly. The Series A management fee is 1.85% per annum. The Series F management fee is 0.85% per annum. The table below provides a breakdown of services received in consideration of the management fees, as a percentage of the management fees, for the year.

	Series I	Series A	Series F
Investment management and other general administration	n/a	45.9%	100.0%
